Come and see what has been happening in Prep so far in 2014...
Independent reading to practise different reading strategies.

Partner reading to help increase fluency and comprehension.
Participation in engaging activities to make writing real and relevant to students.

Hands-on activities to practise and promote letter recognition and development.

Shared writing experiences to develop sequencing and spelling strategies.

WRITING
The development of number sense is a priority at the beginning of the Prep year.

Students use concrete materials to help develop number sense and recognition.

Students get the opportunity to share their learning in a variety of ways.
Based on the Walker Learning Approach of play-based learning.

Students investigate their own areas of interest 3 sessions a week.

Students develop positive interaction skills, problem solving abilities and oral language skills. These are very important in the formative years of schooling.
Prep students work with the Senior students to develop cross-level relationships.

The Buddy system helps the Prep students feel safe and comfortable in their first year at school.

Most important of all, the students love it!
